

The Student Leadership Team 2025-2026

Sanvi Vaidya - Head Girl

Langley Grammar School fosters a culture of curiosity, ambition, and care, where every student is empowered to discover their strengths and grow into a well-rounded individual, ready to face the future. Throughout my time here, I've been encouraged to step outside my comfort zone - whether in lessons, extracurricular activities, or the wide variety of opportunities available. The strong relationships between students and staff create an environment where you feel supported, challenged, and inspired to grow. LGS has been a consistent space for learning, growth, and connection - and one I'm grateful to have been a part of.

Dhyan Shetty- Head Boy

I have thoroughly enjoyed my time at LGS, from our excellent classrooms and facilities to our outstanding standard of teaching, but what sticks out to me most is our school community; here at Langley Grammar, we always strive to support one another in order to become the best versions of ourselves. I can confidently say that I am not only supported academically, but I am also encouraged to explore and diversify my skills as a communicator, a listener, and a creative thinker. This focus on important life skills makes me feel prepared and ready for the wider world.

Akaisha Anand - Deputy Head Girl

At Langley Grammar, I've grown both academically and personally where various opportunities in drama, music, and sports have helped me embrace every challenge. With the unwavering support of our teachers, who encourage independent thinking, we're empowered to strive for excellence. The school's diverse student body creates a unique synergy, blending cultures, ideas, and experiences that spark creativity and broaden our perspective. We're not only encouraged to achieve, but also to contribute meaningfully to the school community, shaping us into thoughtful, adaptable individuals, ready to make a positive impact in the future.

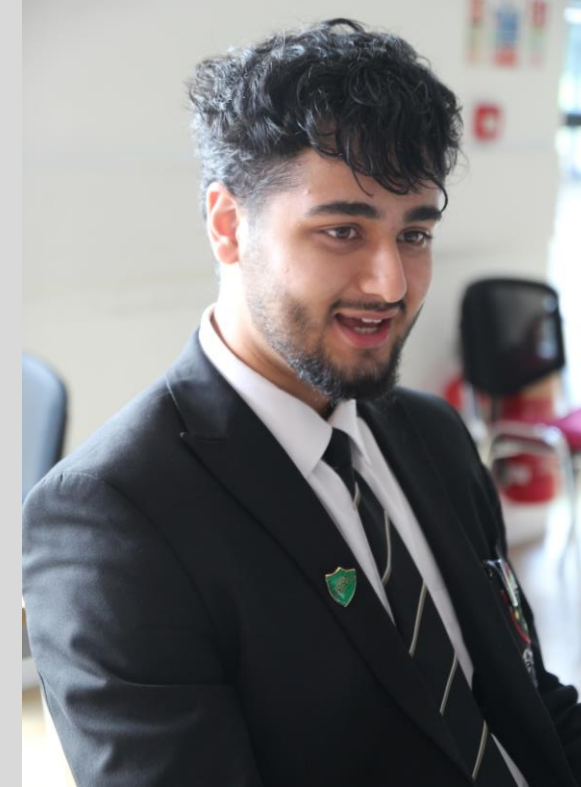

Frankie Sines- Deputy Head Boy

Anyone can achieve academic success if they put the work in, what separates Langley Grammer school is the professionalism, care and respect it imbues in its students, and their work. This school has prepared me for life, it has made me more than my studies, it pushed me to be better than I ever could have predicted. It's a culturally rich environment, filled with focus and passion, with opportunity for students to go the step further, learning at this school is more than a textbook, you are given the facilities to truly explore and understand the way society and the world around us truly works.

Jagjot Nahal - Deputy Head Boy

Langley Grammar School became my second home over these last six years. I value how it encourages exploration beyond academics, whether through music clubs, drama rehearsals or even sports events. Here, teachers consistently show genuine interest in my development, offering guidance that has been essential in shaping me into a young adult. The student body has exposed me to multiple cultures and perspectives I wouldn't have encountered elsewhere. LGS's focus on both academic excellence and character development has prepared me for life beyond school. I'm grateful for the skills and confidence LGS has nurtured within me, which will be invaluable

Pavleen Bajwa -Deputy Head Girl

My experience at LGS, over the last 6 years, has been a truly incredible time, which I have thoroughly enjoyed. With outstanding teachers and a strong support network, the school provides an environment where students are encouraged to flourish both academically and personally. Beyond the classroom, I've had the opportunity to take part in a wide range of clubs and sports tournaments, which have enriched my school life. Along the way, I've built lasting friendships and gained valuable life lessons that have played a key role in preparing me for the world of work and the responsibilities which lie ahead.
