

Privacy notice for students

You have a legal right to be informed about how our school uses any personal information that we hold about you. To comply with this, we provide a 'privacy notice' to you where we are processing your personal information.

This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal information about you. Langley Grammar School, is the 'data controller' for the purposes of data protection law. Contact details for our Data Protection Officer can be found in section 13 'Contact us'.

1. What personal data do we hold?

We hold some personal information about you to make sure we can help you learn and to look after you at school. For the same reasons, we get information about you from some other places too – like other schools, the local council and the government.

This information includes:

- your contact details
- assessment and examination results
- your attendance records
- any characteristics, such as your ethnic background or any special educational needs
- any medical conditions you have
- details of any behaviour issues or exclusions
- photographs
- CCTV images

2. Why do we use this information?

We use this data to help run the school, including to:

- contact you and your parents when we need to
- check how you're doing in exams and work out whether you or your teachers need any extra help
- track how well the school as a whole is performing
- support your wellbeing

3. What is our legal basis for using this data?

We will only collect and use your information when the law allows us to. Most often, we will use your information where:

- we need to comply with the law, or
- we need to use it to carry out a task 'in the public interest' - eg in order to provide you with an education

Sometimes, we may also use your personal information where:

- you, or your parents/carers have given us permission to use it in a certain way, or
- we need to protect your interests, or someone else's interest

Where we have permission to use your data, you or your parents may withdraw this at any time. We will make this clear when we ask for permission and explain how to go about withdrawing consent.

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using your information overlap, and there may be several grounds which mean we can use your data.

4. Collecting this information

While in most cases you, or your parents/carers, must provide the personal information we need to collect, there are some occasions when you can choose whether or not to provide the data.

We will always tell you if it's optional. If you must provide the data, we will explain what might happen if you don't.

5. How do we store this data?

We will keep personal information about you while you are a student at our school. We may also keep it after you have left the school, where we are required to by law.

We have a record retention schedule on our school website which sets out how long we must keep information about you. Information may be stored on our school computer systems or on paper.

6. Data sharing

We do not share personal information about you with anyone outside the school without permission from you or your parents/carers, unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Where it is legally required, or necessary for another reason allowed under data protection law, we may share personal information about you with:

The database is held electronically so it can easily be turned into statistics. The information it holds is collected securely from schools, local authorities, exam boards and others.

The Department for Education may share information from the database with other organisations which promote children's education or wellbeing in England. These organisations must agree to strict terms and conditions about how they will use your data.

This information enables them to provide youth support services, post-16 education and training services, and careers advisers.

Your parents/carers, or you once you're 16, can contact our Data Protection Officer to ask us to only pass on your name, address and date of birth to the local authorities.

Where we share data with an organisation that is based outside the European Economic Area, we will protect your data by following data protection law.
